

Plan Of Operation For Care Of Persons With Dementia

Per California Health and Safety Code, Section 1569.627, a Residential Care Facility For the Elderly (RCFE) that advertises or promotes special care, special programming, or a special environment for persons with dementia must provide a Plan of Operation specifying dementia related care to Community Care Licensing Division (CCLD).

The Plan of Operation for Care of Persons with Dementia shall include a narrative description of all the following features:

- Program philosophy and goals.
- Preadmission assessment.
- Admission.
- Program details, including a brief description of activities to decrease the effects of sundowning.
- Staff training.
- Physical environment.
- Changes in condition, including when changes made to a participant's care plan.
- Success indicators.

Licensees may request resident-specific exceptions or facility-wide waivers at their option. Those who occasionally have residents with dementia may decide on an exception, while those who routinely provide care for residents with dementia may decide that a waiver is more appropriate. The goals are the same: a plan for care and supervision that will meet the needs of residents with dementia.

RA Mears Consulting can provide you with the documentation you need to advertise or promote care of persons with dementia, including:

- A Plan of Operation for care of persons with dementia.

Price: $275

Notes: See our Products & Services Price List and Policies for full details. You are accountable for knowing the contents of your Plan of Operation for Care of Persons with Dementia and for providing the services therein. To this end, RA Mears Consulting can provide an overview of any documentation provided to you, as needed.

A Plan Of Operation For Care Of Persons With Dementia will be sent by email or regular mail, as agreed on. All Plans Of Operation For Care Of Persons With Dementia delivered electronically will be in non-modifiable PDF format and will not be provided in a modifiable format (e.g., DOC, TXT). RA Mears Consulting will make any revisions to our work required by CCLD for initial approval without additional charge to you.

A mailed Plan Of Operation For Care Of Persons With Dementia will require a $5 processing fee.